Article III.

Organization.

3. Such male students of any high school who are organized in accordance with the provisions of the above law, shall constitute the High School Cadets, State of California, as such they shall wear the prescribed uniform and shall be subject to the orders of their superiors, and to these regulations.

They will be of such scope, and held under such regulations, as may be determined by the principal and commandant.

After an officer has held the office of captain of a company for one year, he will be placed on the list of additional officers, and will thereafter be available for such duties with the cadets as may be assigned to him by the principal or commandant.

The examination papers will be prepared in the office of The Adjutant General and forwarded to the principal who will appoint a responsible person to supervise the candidates' examination. The candidates' answers will be returned by the principal to The Adjutant General's office, where the papers will be marked, and the candidate attaining the highest percentage will be commissioned in accordance with section 3, article I.

14. Every student, except in schools where military instruction is compulsory, who wishes to become a member of the cadet organization of the school shall register his name in the office of the commandant of cadets, and shall at the same time file with the commandant the written permission of the student's parent or guardian. The commandant will ascertain from the principal the student's standing in studies and deportment. If this standing is below that fixed by the faculty for students in good standing, the student will not be enrolled. Great care will be exercised that only students of good moral character may be enrolled in the cadet organization.

15. No cadet shall withdraw from the cadet organization without the written permission of the principal.

Article V.

Uniform.

16. The cadet uniform shall be that prescribed in section 7, article I of these regulations. Whether breeches or trousers shall be adopted will be determined by the principal and commandant of the school.

17. The pattern of uniform, chevrons indicating rank, cap and collar ornaments, are shown in appendix A of these regulations.

18. Each cadet shall keep himself supplied with the regulation uniform of his school, which he must maintain in good order. While on duty as a cadet, he shall wear no other dress, except by permission of the commandant.

19. Neatness of dress and person is required at all times.

20. No buttons, ornaments, badges or other devices, except those authorized by The Adjutant General, shall be worn by any cadet. #### Article VI.

Studies.

21. No cadet shall absent himself from any class to which he has been assigned by reason of his military duties.

22. The general standing of a cadet shall be determined by combining the academic standing, the military standing, and the deportment, that weight being given each standing which in the judgment of the principal is proper for the best interests of the cadet.

Article VII.

Discipline.

24. Breaches of discipline or violations of these regulations committed by any cadet shall be triable by court-martial, or summarily punished by the principal, or by the commandant of cadets, according to the nature of the offense, provided that any cadet who feels that he has been unjustly accused, may appeal his case to the principal asking for a careful investigation of his case, pending which execution of sentence shall be withheld, and no punishment will be given unless the principal decides that punishment will be just in the case before him.

25. The organization, procedure, and records of all courts-martial shall conform to those prescribed by United States army regulations.

26. No sentence of any court-martial shall be carried into effect until it has been approved by the principal and the commandant.

27. Officers and non-commissioned officers placed under arrest, or against whom accusations of misconduct of such gravity as to warrant trial by court-martial, have been made, shall not exercise the authority of their grade until exonerated.

28. Company commanders shall be held responsible to the commandant for the proper discipline of their respective commands, and shall submit daily reports of all absentees and of all offenses committed by members of their organizations.

29. At the beginning of each term, each cadet shall receive a credit of one hundred merits. Any cadet who exhausts his full credit of merits during the term shall be expelled from the cadet organization, or otherwise punished as the principal may direct. Any officer or non-commissioned officer who, during a term, receives a total of fifty demerits shall be reduced.

30. Demerits shall not be given lightly. It must be borne in mind that a demerit materially affects a cadet's general standing in the school. When any officer or non-commissioned officer considers that a cadet should be given a demerit, he shall at once bring the cadet's conduct to the attention of the commandant, and shall notify the cadet that this action has been taken. In every case the commandant shall give the cadet a fair opportunity to explain his conduct to the principal before awarding demerits.

Article VIII.

Conduct and Deportment.

31. No cadet shall address an officer or a cadet who may have reported him for a delinquency on the subject of such report, unless specially authorized by the principal or commandant to do so, and no officer or cadet who has made a report against a cadet shall hold any conversation with him in regard to it, unless by permission of the principal or commandant.

32. It shall be the duty of every cadet, officer and non-commissioned officer aware of any violation of the rules and regulations of the high school cadets, or of any crime, irregularity, neglect, or other improper conduct of which any cadet has been guilty, to report the same without delay to the commandant. Officers and cadets in presenting delinquencies shall, as far as practicable, conform to simple, plain statements of facts, and shall not attempt to characterize offenses.

33. A daily detail of an officer of the day shall be made in each school, the officer so detailed to hold office for twenty-four hours. During his tour of duty he is senior to all cadets and cadet officers in matters of police and good order, but shall have no power to grant privileges, except as specially authorized. He shall be responsible for the good order, discipline, and conduct of the cadets, and for the enforcement of these regulations during his tour of duty. He shall make such inspections and reports, and be subject to such orders as from time to time may be prescribed by the principal or commandant.

34. The officer of the day shall be responsible for any delay in the sounding of the call for drills and other prescribed formations, but if it can be shown that he notified the musician within three minutes after the proper time for sounding the calls, he shall be relieved of the responsibility, and the musician only shall be subject to report. Nothing in these regulations shall be construed as excusing the musician for delay in sounding the calls on time.

35. Cadet officers shall be addressed as cadet colonel (major, captain, etc.); non-commissioned officers by their title (1st sergeant, sergeant, etc.); all other cadets as mister.

36. No arms or equipment belonging to the Government, State, or School shall be removed from the school without permission from the commandant.

37. No ammunition or unauthorized firearms of any kind shall be carried by the cadet without express permission of the commandant.

38. Cadets shall not discharge firearms within or about the school except in the regular routine of duty.

39. Any cadet who shall lose, sell, willfully damage, destroy, or in any way dispose of the arms, ammunition, equipment, accoutrements, or furniture issued to him, shall, in addition to paying for the same, be punished according to the nature of his offense.

40. Open manifestations of feeling, by way of approval, or censure, when official announcements are made, is prejudicial to military discipline, and therefore punishable.

41. All combinations under any pretext whatsoever within the cadet organization is contrary to military discipline. Any cadet who, in concert with others, under pretense of procuring redress of grievance, adopts any measure, or signs any paper, or enters into any written or verbal agreement, with a view to violate or evade any regulation of the cadet organization, or does anything to the prejudice of good order and military discipline, or who endeavors to persuade others to do the same, shall be dismissed or otherwise punished, according to the nature of the offense.

42. Any cadet who considers himself aggrieved by another, or by an officer, may complain thereof to the principal or commandant.

44. Articles of War, United States Army, Art. 28. Any officer or soldier who upbraids another officer or soldier for refusing a challenge shall himself be punished as a challenger, and all officers and soldiers are hereby discharged from any disgrace or opinion of disadvantage which might arise from their having refused to accept challenges, as they will only have acted in obedience to the law, and have done their duty as good soldiers, who subject themselves to discipline.

45. The above articles of war are included in these regulations.

Article IX.

Religious Duties.

46. Every cadet should consider it his duty to observe the days set aside for the worship of the Supreme Being by his parents or guardians, or by the religious denomination to which he may belong.

Article XI.

Comradeship.

49. The good fortune of individuals is not alike. One is successful in life while another equally as deserving meets with reverses. It happens, as a consequence, that all parents are not equally able to provide in quantity and quality the material necessities of life for those entrusted to their care. Every cadet should bear this in mind, and should so conduct himself in his relations with his fellow cadets that each cadet, irrespective of the high school of which he may be a student, will feel for the other cadet true comradeship indeed.

50. Nothing is more destructive of comradeship than petty jealousies. Such jealousies are the hall-mark of mediocrity. Every cadet is in duty bound actively to discourage them.

51. The success of any cadet organization in any shooting contest, competition, or other effort reflects credit on the entire high school cadet organization.

52. Whenever any cadet organization shall be rewarded for excellence in any contest, competition, or other effort, it shall be the duty of every regimental, battalion, or company commander of the high school cadets to prepare a letter extending to the successful organization the hearty congratulatory ulations of the regiment, battalion, and company.

53. True comradeship is active, not passive. Every cadet should endeavor by good example to encourage his fellow cadet to keep the laws of God and Country.

Article XII.

Suggestions.

54. No cadet should appear in uniform on the streets, or in any public place with his hands in his pockets, nor should any uniformed cadet appear except in proper uniform with blouse buttoned throughout. Olive drab shirt may be worn without blouse, in which case it shall be buttoned throughout with collar neatly rolled, except when the cadet is engaged in athletic sports.

55. Cadets who are guilty of culpable and continued neglect of their studies are not worthy cadets notwithstanding any special qualifications they may otherwise possess which particularly fit them for membership in the organization.

56. Cadets should answer promptly and fully every question put by an officer or non-commissioned officer on duty.

57. Every cadet should cultivate politeness. His conduct towards his teachers and towards elderly people should at all times be above criticism.

58. Every cadet should consider himself in honor bound to lend his protection to the weak.

59. Purity in thought, word and deed is the hall-mark of nobility of character. The impure are not wanted in any community.

60. The use of profane or unseemly language is the clearly defined line separating the ill-bred rowdy from the man of gentle breeding. Be careful to keep yourself on the right side of that line.

The Cadet's Glory.

61. A high school cadet is a true gentleman. He stands for the high ideals of life. He loves peace and deplores war, but is always ready to defend his country in its hour of need. He respects authority. He obeys the law. He cultivates filial love, and strives earnestly to be an honor to his father and mother. He honors the Supreme Being in thought, word and deed.
